

Supported Accommodation Services

Helping you develop the skills you need to live as autonomously as possible.

Supported Independent Living

Our supported accommodation services provide you with an independent style of living, helping you be in control over how you want to live and manage your life.

Whether you're looking to live independently or with friends, our trained, supportive staff can help you adjust to your new living arrangement. We provide you with support in managing your daily tasks and personal needs, so that you can feel more confident and develop the skills you need to live as independently as possible at home.

Benefits of Supported Accommodation

Our supported accommodation services:

- Promote participation in social and household activities.
- Help you manage money and a household budget.
- Assist you in undertaking household tasks such as preparing food.
- Take care of any essential household tasks you may have trouble doing yourself.

Our Residences

TRISS has a range of one-, two- and three-bedroom units within a secure complex, with an onsite office staffed by our trained and friendly disability support team.

This accommodation offers comfortable shared or independent living in a supported and inclusive environment. Participants have the security of a written agreement to live in the home and we manage household maintenance and rent collection, as well as any additional support or supervision required according to each participant's needs.
